REAR ADMIRAL NICHOLSON, commanding the European station, has written a private letter to a prominent officer of the Navy department, under occasion to deny the statement that when the bombardment of Alexandria began he notified the Egyptians that if they fired on any of his vessels he would return the fire. He also denied the statement that after the action he steamed around the English fleet and cheered the vessels upon their work. In reference to the statement that he had landed marines to assist the British troops, Admiral Nicholson states that his men were landed at the request of the Khedive to protect the American consulate and assist in extinguishing the fires that were raging in that vicinity, and that his men re-embarked as soon as order was restored, leaving, however, just men enough to guard the consulate. Admiral Nicholson says he received the thanks of the Khedive and the British commander for the service rendered in extin-

THE EXPECTED DEPARTURE OF THE WASHINGTON LIGHT INFANTRY CORPS TO CAPE MAY TO-NIGHT-THE ROSTER OF THE CORPS-THE PROGRAM OF ENTERTAINMENTS AT THE CAPE.

There were busy scenes around the Washington Light Infantry corps' armory last evening. Company chests were being packed ready for shipment, and other preparations being made for the departure of the corps for Cape May to-night. Quartermaster Breitbarth was in constant demand everywhere. The camp at Cape May was being arranged last evening by Quartermaster Sergeant Allen, with a squad of men. Capt. Breitbarth says he has had five electric lights placed in the camp, whose bright glare will take the place of the flickering and uncertain light of longevity pay under the recent Tyler decision re- o'clock to-night, and expect to arrive at the camp ported to him by the Second Auditor. The latter of these journey by rail. The Union Veteran corps will claims, and expects to receive as many more for escort the departing military to the depot. The following is

THE PROGRAM AT CAPE MAY. A letter received last evening by Col. Moore from Mr. W. S. Roose, president of the honorary member's association, who is now at Cape May, set out Fish Commissioner Baird, with millions of speci- the program to be carried out at Cape May, so far stitution will be included in the government ex- giver, but they will be escorted direct to their hotel. On Monday morning a formal reception will be tendered them by the city authorities, the local military, the citizens and visitors. A grand excursion is being arranged to the Delaware Break water, and on the return of the boat a lunch will be served at the Delaware Bay House, and on Tuesday evening a grand ball will be given by the Messrs. Crump Bros., of Congress hall. On Thurs-day evening a ball will be given by the proprietors of the Stockton hotel. The mayor has issued an invitation to the residents along the line of march on Monday to decorate their houses with flags. The corps will take the Marine band, and the overs of music at the beach will be amply gratified. The camp on the grounds of Congress Hall hotel has been named camp Wm. T. Sherman. The train that takes the corps will stop at Bultimore to take on a delegation of gentlemen of that city who propose to accompany the corps to their camp by the sea. Many little pleasure plans have already been laid among the members of the corps. A base ball match between a picked nine of the "Infantry" and the Cape May nine is contemplated. The boys have already divided up in messes. The various messes have adopted some destructive name which the members have printed on their cards. One is the "Jumbo mess." The "Big Six" mess take down a separate chest of their own of suspicious capacity.

While there is great interest manifested in the results of these observations, and considerable enthusiasm in scientific circles, still the chances of the entire preparation coming to nothing are so great that scientific men are not inclined to be very sanguine. The transit ob 1874 was rendered valueless on account of the clouds which obscured the face of the sun during the transit and prevented photographs from being taken. A more tavorable condition is hoped for this time. In order to avoid as far as possible the unhappy contingency of clouds stations have been selected in the
